Excerpt from The Price of Unity And perhaps it might be thought more becoming in one who has spent the greater part of his life in the Church of England, to remain silent in regard to what he believes to be its defects, and to be content with the enjoyment of what he has. Why should he not, if he must needs leave it, give it at least an honourable burial in his memory, and allow it to do its work in peace, while he tries to do his in the new sphere of his choice? But religion - at any rate religious systems - are not merely personal matters. They are public property, and ought to be considered apart from personal as sociations, and the persons concerned. The grounds upon which their claims are based stand apart from the persons who yield or withdraw their allegiance from this body or that, and must be considered Upon their own merits. Though doubtless one who has taken part in its life, sees and feels its weaknesses and its strength more keenly and more vividly than do those who study it from outside. Do you know who you're meant to be? Do you know how to find the answers to questions like these? Knowledge of Self is the result of a process of self-discovery, but few of us know where to begin when we're ready to start looking deeper. Although self-actualization is the highest of all human needs, it is said that only 5% of people ever attain this goal. In the culture of the Nation of Gods and Earths, commonly known as the Five Percent, students are instructed that they must first learn themselves, then their worlds, and then what they must do in order to transform their world for the better. This often intense process has produced thousands of revolutionary thinkers in otherwise desperate environments, where poverty and hopelessness dominate. Until now, few mainstream publications have captured the brilliant yet practical perspectives of these luminary men and women. Knowledge of Self: A Collection of Writings on the Science of Everything in Life presents the thoughts of Five Percenters, both young and old, male and female, from all over the globe, in their own words. Through essays, poems, and even how-to articles, this anthology presents readers with an accurate portrait of what the Five Percent study and teach, as well as sound direction on how to answer timeless questions like: Who am I, and why am I here? Why is there so much injustice in the world, and what can be done about it? Who is God and where on Earth is he? How do I improve myself without losing myself? Why are people of color in the situations they're in? What can we do about the global problems of racism and poverty? Outlines a scientifically based blueprint for happiness that focuses on positive action rather than wishful thinking, and includes specific strategies for implementing "positive psychology" practices into everyday life. Basil W. Maturin offers immense and inspiring insights upon spiritual and personal growth, which he held to be a matter of constantly disciplining oneself to submit to God's divine will. A man of supreme devotion and faith, Maturin sets out the principles through which Christian faithful can grow closer to God. Disciplining in one's thought and habits are held to be the most important undertakings for any believer; it is only through learning and practicing the virtues espoused by Christ and other Biblical figures that we can experience lasting harmony in our daily lives and be of well-rounded and responsible character for all-time. The author distinguishes between the different disciplines a human being can undertake - discipline of the mind with a good attitude, emotions and regard for the holy, and discipline of the body by abstaining from indulgences, must be paired with a willful acknowledgement of Christ in the supernatural life. As an eternal spirit whose guidance affects us constantly, Jesus has a profound presence in Basil W. Maturin's advice. Born in Ireland in 1847, at a young age the author knew his fate was with God. After enrolling in the priesthood and demonstrating a talent for speaking to Christians, he was sent to the United States. For years he performed church service as a rector in Philadelphia and Baltimore, before formally converting to Catholicism in 1898. As fate would have it, Basil W. Maturin was one of the passengers aboard the RMS Lusitania, on the night it was sunk by German U-Boats - he was one of the 1,198 dead. How to resist temptation, strengthen your will, govern your thoughts, and find balance of soul! This is the book you need for those times in your life when even your most strenuous efforts to follow Christ end in frustration. Christian Self-Mastery explains why following Him can be so difficult – and how you can start now to make progress even in the most vexing areas of your life. Author Fr. Basil W. Maturin insists that no matter how hard you're trying now, you can have a better relationship with God and greater self-mastery – if you follow his simple steps to getting your passions in check and improving your knowledge of your own motives, desires, and fears. Fr. Maturin emphasizes the crucial role that self-discipline plays in your spiritual life and gives you solid ways you can distinguish it from counterfeits and avoid common mistakes people make when they try to change their habits and live for God. This extraordinary book will help you in myriad ways to rise above your limitations and truly meet God! Start on the way to true self-mastery as you learn: Two things you must know in order to make any progress at all in your spiritual life Why it's dangerous for you to try to adopt a large number of spiritual disciplines all at once Self-knowledge: why it involves so much more than its contemporary counterfeit, self-analysis Two ways to avoid self-deception when you look at yourself (caution: you'll probably be surprised at who you really are!) Why self-control and self-denial are not morbid and gloomy, but hopeful and even joyful – when undertaken properly Self-discipline: how it will restore your soul to its full power. Three things you must have in order to gain this power The mistake many people make when trying to rid themselves of evil thoughts: are you falling into this trap too? Love: the holy school that will purify and ennoble yours – and help you steer clear of prevalent modern counterfeits And more that will show you the value of self-mastery – and give you solid directions for attaining it! Teaching & Researching Translation provides an authoritative and critical account of the main ideas and concepts, competing issues, and solved and unsolved questions involved in Translation Studies. This second edition has been fully revised and updated through-out to include: The most up-to-date research in a number of key areas A new introduction, as well as a new chapter on the translation of style which sets out a new agenda for research in this field Updated examples and new concepts Expanded references, bibliography and further reading sections, as well as new links and resources Armed with this expert guidance, students of translation, researchers and practitioners, or anyone with a general interest in this fast-developing field can explore for themselves a range of exemplary practical applications of research into key issues and questions. Basil Hatim is Professor of Translation & Linguistics at the American University of Sharjah, UAE and theorist and practitioner in English/Arabic translation. He has worked and lectured widely at universities throughout the world, and has published extensively on Applied Linguistics, Text Linguistics, Translation/Interpreting and TESOL. Here is a brief, lucid, readable work that will help you finally not merely draw closer to Christ but abide in his presence today, tomorrow, and ever after. In it, Fr. Basil Maturin, a holy priest wise in the ways of the soul, explains what you must do – and what you must allow Christ to do – in order to come to know Him as you should. In chapters written for souls hungry to improve their spiritual lives, Fr. Maturin shows you how to move beyond the conquest of particular vices and develop true friendship with Christ. You'll learn not merely how to pray but also how to combine prayer with the other spiritual virtues that are essential to sure progress in the spiritual life. With Fr. Maturin's help, you'll soon develop a strong and vigorous character that shines with the bright virtues and that lead you finally to an encounter – face-to-face – with Christ Himself. From Fr. Maturin you'll learn: The one virtue that breaks open the soul to admit God's abundant grace How – even while here on Earth – you may become like the angels The two things you must do to discern God's will for you Why fervor is no measure of devotion How training your mind will improve your prayers Distractions: how to deal with them efficiently... And charitably How to discover your best times for prayer The sense of God's presence: how to make it your armor against both crippling introspection, heedless self-abandonment, and even ordinary, everyday distractions Why, if you don't actively cultivate your inner life, you'll wind up lost in outer things How – if you let Him! – God perfects you through your vocation (Plus: the particular things you must do so as not to stand in His way) And much more to form your soul and bring you closer to Christ. Basil William Maturin (1847–1915) was an Irish-born Anglican priest, preacher and writer who later became Roman Catholic. He was ordained in Rome, and appointed Chaplain at Oxford University in 1914. He died on board the RMS Lusitania as he returned from America, on 7 May 1915 during the First World War. His works include: Practical Studies on the Parables of Our Lord (1897), Laws of Spiritual Life (1905) and Price of Unity (1912).
